The goal of blackjack is to hold a hand whose card value total is as close as possible to 21, while exceeding the card value of the hand held by the dealer. The easiest way to achieve this objective is by drawing a blackjack, that is an ace and a ten, which together make 21 and give you an automatic win with the maximum payoff at 3/2 on your bet.

Each card in a hand has a point value that is added up to calculate the total of the hand. The face cards: King (K), Queen (Q), and Jack (J) are worth 10 points each, while the number cards 2 through 10 are worth their pip value. The Ace (A) can either count as 1 or 11, this makes the difference between a "soft" and a "hard" hand, and the method of calculating the value of an ace depends on the rest of the hand.

Other ways to win at blackjack is to have a hand that exceeds the dealer's total or by letting the dealer go "bust", that is going over 21 while you remain under the limit. However, if you're the one who goes bust by having a count that exceeds 21, then you'll automatically lose your bet.

Blackjack online follows the same rules as the physical game played in casinos. At the beginning of the round, after making their initial bet, the dealer will deal the player two cards turned up while the dealer also gets a card with its face turned down. There are a few variations to this setup, but the rest of the game revolves around the options to take a hit and add another card, double down and increase the amount of money wagered, or standing on the current hand.

The Joker of the comics is largely driven by ideological and philosophical reasons rather than money or understandable ambitions. Nicholson's Joker while motivated by an inflated sense of self, overactive ego, and specialized narcissism is a gangster at heart.
