What is a Full House in Poker? Everything You Need to Know

Published by: Jon Pill

As

part of Poker's cards chart 4 and poker hands series, we bring you a full rundown of the full house, including its definition, ranking, hands that 4 beat it, hands that it beats, probability, and some examples.

To be successful at poker, you must learn the poker hierarchy 4 of hands. If you don't understand the different potential hands and their rankings, you could misplay your own hand and 4 lose a critical pot.

A full house in poker is a solid, yet unique card hand that combines three-of-a-kind and a 4 pair.

Considered one of the best hands in poker, a full house is still not the best hand on the 4 felt. You can beat it with a four-of-a-kind and all the straight flushes, including a royal flush.

One of the most 4 memorable full houses in poker history is the final hand of the 2003 WSOP Main Event. With a J54 flop, 4 Chris Moneymaker flopped two-pair while holding 54 versus Sammy Farha's top pair as he held J10. After they went all-in 4 post-flop, the dealer turned the 8 and rivered the 5, completing Moneymaker's winning full house that ultimately changed poker forever.

What 4 is a Full House?

A full house in poker is a five-card hand containing a three-of-a-kind and a pair. It can 4 also be called "a full boat," more commonly shortened to just "a boat." A full house is considered a very 4 strong hand in poker and it is often a winning poker hand. Although this unique hand outranks many common poker 4 hands, a full house is not unbeatable.

Full

House Rankings

The full house is the third-highest hand in the standard poker hand

4 rankings (fourth if you count royal flushes as a separate hand from other straight flushes).

The full house marks a transition 4 between the more common hands and the rarer “monster” hands. It is just above a flush in value, and just 4 below four-of-a-kind.

What

Beats a Full House in Poker?

A full house is one of the best hands in poker, but it 4 can still be beaten. One of the most memorable losses by a full house in poker history was an unbelievable 4 hand between poker superstars Daniel Negreanu and Gus Hansen.

In one hand during Season 2 of the popular television show High 4 Stakes Poker, Negreanu was dealt 66, while Hansen was dealt 55. When the dealer flopped 965, both players had hit 4 a set (or three-of-a-kind).

Negreanu had a stranglehold on the hand as Hansen was drawing all but dead to one card. 4 But when the miracle 5 fell on the turn, Hansen catapulted into the lead and would clinch the hand when 4 the 8 fell on the river. After they were all-in, Hansen would win aR$575,700 pot, which was the largest in 4 High Stakes Poker history to that point.

The hands that beat a full house are, in order:

Royal

flush — ace, king, 4 queen, jack, ten all in the same suit, which beats:

All other straight flushes — five consecutive cards in the same 4 suit, which beats:

Four-of-a-kind

— four cards of one rank plus a kicker of any other rank, which, in turn, beats: 4 Full House

What Poker Hands Does a Full House Beat?

If you're dealt a full house, you can rest easy that you'll 4 win the pot more often than not. The three-and-two card mix of the full house in poker beats many common 4 and plenty of more typical hands, as seen below.

In certain poker games, you must meet specific criteria to have this 4 hand as a possible outcome. For example, in no-limit hold'em, a player cannot have a full house unless there's at 4 least a pair on the board. As for seven-card stud games, since three cards are face down, full houses can 4 be hidden, which is extremely powerful and dangerous.

A full house beats:

Flush — five cards of the same suit that are 4 not consecutive, which beats:

Straight — a run of five consecutive cards in at least two suits, which beats:

Three-of-a-kind — three 4 cards of the same rank, plus two other cards of differing and non-matching ranks, which beats:

Pair — two cards of 4 the same rank, plus three other cards of differing and non-matching, which beats:

High card —

five cards of differing ranks 4 in at least two suits.

Who Wins if Both Players Have a Full House?

In rare instances, two opponents could both have 4 full houses, often resulting in an extremely large pot. When two very good poker hands are up against each other 4 in the same hand like this, we typically call it a “cooler.”

Where two full houses are up against each other, 4 the rank of the three-of-a-kind settles the difference. For example, 55566 beats 444KK.

When playing with a standard deck, there are 4 only four cards of each rank. This means there will never be a draw between two full houses, except in 4 games where cards are shared (mostly flop games like hold'em) or wild cards are utilized. In these cases, the pair 4 breaks ties where possible.

The Probabilities of a Full House

The odds of being dealt a full house off the top of 4 a shuffled deck is 0.1441%.

This is because in a standard 52-card deck there are 3,744 combinations that make a full 4 house out of a total of 2,598,960 possible hands. This is equivalent to odds of 693-to-1.

For comparison, the odds of 4 getting a royal flush are 0.000154%, a straight 0.3925%, and a high hand 50.112%.

Examples of Full Houses

KKKQQ, 999JJ, 222AA, 4 are all examples of full houses. Here they are ordered from the highest rank to the lowest rank, as the 4 rank of the three-of-a-kind is prioritized.

222AA is described at showdown as "a full house, twos (or deuces) over aces." You 4 may hear this elided as: "a boat, deuces of aces." How #### to Play a Full House in Texas Hold'em

The relative strength 4 of a full house, like all hands, depends on the board (in flop games) or your opponent's visible cards (in 4 stud games). In hold'em sometimes a full house can be the nuts (i.e. the best possible hand), while other times 4 it can be worth peanuts.

In general, though, full houses are one of the best hands in poker and are worth 4 playing aggressively. Because a full house requires the board to contain at least one pair, you must be cautious in 4 particular of competing for full houses and fours-of-a-kind. The paired board will also clue opponents into the possibility of your 4 hand, so you may need to disguise the strength of your hand by making slow plays like checks and calls. 4 Fully understanding poker strategy will let you maximize your pots and winnings.
