International multi-sport events for disabled athletes

Ice Sledge Hockey: United States (blue shirts) vs Japan (white shirts) during the 2010 Paralympics in Vancouver.

The Paralympic sports comprise all the sports contested in the Summer and Winter Paralympic Games.

As of 2020, the Summer Paralympics included 22 sports and 539 medal events,[1] and the Winter Paralympics include 5 sports and disciplines and about 80 events.

[2] The number and kinds of events may change from one Paralympic Games to another.

The Paralympic Games are a major international multi-sport event for athletes with physical disabilities or intellectual impairments.

This includes athletes with mobility disabilities, amputations, blindness, and cerebral palsy.

Paralympic sports refers to organized competitive sporting activities as part of the global Paralympic movement.

These sports are organized and run under the supervision of the International Paralympic Committee and other international sports federations.

History [ edit ]

Archery: Lindsey Carmichael from the United States, at the 2008 Paralympic Games in Beijing.

Organized sport for persons with physical disabilities developed out of rehabilitation programs.

Following World War II, in response to the needs of large numbers of injured ex-service members and civilians, sport was introduced as a key part of rehabilitation.

Sport for rehabilitation grew into recreational sport and then into competitive sport.

The pioneer of this approach was Ludwig Guttmann of the Stoke Mandeville Hospital in England.

In 1948, while the Olympic Games were being held in London, England, he organized a sports competition for wheelchair athletes at Stoke Mandeville.

This was the origin of the Stoke Mandeville Games, which evolved into the modern Paralympic Games.[3]

Organization [ edit ]

Globally, the International Paralympic Committee is recognized as the leading organization, with direct governance of nine sports, and responsibility over the Paralympic Games and other multi-sport, multi-disability events.

Other international organizations, notably the International Wheelchair and Amputee Sports Federation (IWAS), the International Blind Sports Federation (IBSA), International Sports Federation for Persons with Intellectual Disability (INAS) and the Cerebral Palsy International Sports and Recreation Association (CP-ISRA) govern some sports that are specific to certain disability groups.

[4] In addition, certain single-sport federations govern sports for athletes with a disability, either as part of an able-bodied sports federation such as the International Federation for Equestrian Sports (FEI), or as a disabled sports federation such as the International Wheelchair Basketball Federation.[5]

At the national level, there are a wide range of organizations that take responsibility for Paralympic sport, including National Paralympic Committees,[6] which are members of the IPC, and many others.[citation needed]

Disability categories [ edit ]

Cycling: Karissa Whitsell and Mackenzie Woodring (pilot) from the United States, compete in Beijing 2008

Biathlon: Andy Soule from the United States, at the 2010 Paralympics in Vancouver.

Athletes who participate in Paralympic sport are grouped into ten major categories, based on their type of disability:

Physical Impairment - There are eight different types of physical impairment recognized by the movement:

Impaired muscle power - With impairments in this category, the force generated by muscles, such as the muscles of one limb, one side of the body or the lower half of the body is reduced, e.g. due to spinal-cord injury, spina bifida or polio.

- With impairments in this category, the force generated by muscles, such as the muscles of one limb, one side of the body or the lower half of the body is reduced, e.g. due to spinal-cord injury, spina bifida or polio.

Impaired passive range of movement - Range of movement in one or more joints is reduced in a systematic way.

Acute conditions such as arthritis are not included.

Loss of limb or limb deficiency - A total or partial absence of bones or joints from partial or total loss due to illness, trauma, or congenital limb deficiency (e.g.dysmelia).

- A total or partial absence of bones or joints from partial or total loss due to illness, trauma, or congenital limb deficiency (e.g.dysmelia).

Leg-length difference - Significant bone shortening occurs in one leg due to congenital deficiency or trauma.

Short stature - Standing height is reduced due to shortened legs, arms and trunk, which are due to a musculoskeletal deficit of bone or cartilage structures.

Hypertonia - Hypertonia is marked by an abnormal increase in muscle tension and reduced ability of a muscle to stretch.

Hypertonia may result from injury, disease, or conditions which involve damage to the central nervous system (e.g.cerebral palsy).

Hypertonia may result from injury, disease, or conditions which involve damage to the central nervous system (e.g.cerebral palsy).

Ataxia - Ataxia is an impairment that consists of a lack of coordination of muscle movements (e.g. cerebral palsy, Friedreich's ataxia).

- Ataxia is an impairment that consists of a lack of coordination of muscle movements (e.g. cerebral palsy, Friedreich's ataxia).

Athetosis - Athetosis is generally characterized by unbalanced, involuntary movements and a difficulty maintaining a symmetrical posture (e.g. cerebral palsy, choreoathetosis).

Visual Impairment - Athletes with visual impairment ranging from partial vision, sufficient to be judged legally blind, to total blindness.

This includes impairment of one or more component of the visual system (eye structure, receptors, optic nerve pathway, and visual cortex).

[7] The sighted guides for athletes with a visual impairment are such a close and essential part of the competition that the athlete with visual impairment and the guide are considered a team.

Beginning in 2012, these guides (along with sighted goalkeepers in 5-a-side football became eligible to receive medals of their own.[8][9]

Intellectual Disability - Athletes with a significant impairment in intellectual functioning and associated limitations in adaptive behaviour.

The IPC primarily serves athletes with physical disabilities, but the disability group Intellectual Disability has been added to some Paralympic Games.

This includes only elite athletes with intellectual disabilities diagnosed before the age of 18.

[7] However, the IOC-recognized Special Olympics World Games are open to all people with intellectual disabilities.[10][11]

The disability category determines who athletes compete against and which sports they participate in.

Some sports are open to multiple disability categories (e.g. cycling), while others are restricted to only one (e.g.

Five-a-side football).

In some sports athletes from multiple categories compete, but only within their category (e.g. athletics), while in others athletes from different categories compete against one another (e.g. swimming).

Events in the Paralympics are commonly labelled with the relevant disability category, such as Men's Swimming Freestyle S1, indicating athletes with a severe physical impairment, or Ladies Table Tennis 11, indicating athletes with an intellectual disability.[12]

Classification [ edit ]

Swimming at the 2008 Summer Paralympics

A major component of Paralympic sport is classification.

[7] Classification provides a structure for competition which allows athletes to compete against others with similar disabilities or similar levels of physical function.

It is similar in aim to the weight classes or age categories used in some non-disabled sports.

Athletes are classified through a variety of processes that depend on their disability group and the sport they are participating in.

Evaluation may include a physical or medical examination, a technical evaluation of how the athlete performs certain sport-related physical functions, and observation in and out of competition.

Each sport has its own specific classification system which factors into the rules for Olympic competition in the sport.[citation needed]

Possible future winter sports [ edit ]

Bob Balk, the chairman of the International Paralympic Committee (IPC) Athletes' Council, launched a campaign in early 2012 to have sliding sports (bobsleigh, luge and skeleton) included at the 2018 Winter Paralympics in Pyeongchang, South Korea.[13]

At the meeting in Madrid, Spain, on 10 and 11 September 2018, the IPC executive board announced that Para Bobsleigh had failed in some evaluation criteria and would not be part of the official program for the 2022 Winter Paralympic Games.[14]

Abbreviations [ edit ]Notes [ edit ]

The categories listed represent all those groups that participate in this sport at some level.

Not all these categories are represented in competition at the Paralympic Games.

The governing bodies listed represent those organizations responsible for the broadest level of participation.

In some cases, other disability-specific organizations will also have some governance of athletes in that sport within their own group.

For example, the IPC governs multi-disability athletics competitions such as the Paralympic Games; however, CP-ISRA, IBSA, and IWAS provide single-disability events in athletics for athletes with cerebral palsy, visually impaired athletes, and wheelchair and amputee athletes respectively.

Paralympic Games status details the years these sports were practiced as full medal events at the Paralympic Games.

Introdução ao Saldo Restrito

Se você já é um jogador da Sportingbet, certamente já ouviu falar sobre o termo "saldo restrito". Mas o que isso significa de verdade? Trata-se de um limite imposto em uma conta de jogador, restringindo a quantia que pode ser retirada ou usada para apostas desportivas.

Identificando um Saldo Restrito

Se você tentar retirar fundos e verificar que a opção de retirada está indisponível ou impedida, provavelmente é porque a conta tem um saldo restrito. Geralmente, isto é transmitido por meio de uma mensagem de erro ou aviso informativo na plataforma.

Ex-diplomata dos EUA se declara culpado de conspiração com o governo cubano

Um ex-diplomata dos EUA se declarou culpado de conspiração para atuar como agente de um governo estrangeiro. Em troca, a promotoria retirou mais de uma dúzia de outras acusações, incluindo fraude de telecomunicações eornar declarações falsas.

"Eu me declaro culpado", disse Rocha, vestido com um uniforme de presídio bege, à juíza do Tribunal de Distrito dos EUA Beth Bloom, adicionando que ele entendia a gravidade de suas ações.

A condenação marcou o fim de um caso criminal excepcionalmente rápido e evitou um julgamento que teria esclarecido exatamente o que Rocha fez para ajudar Cuba enquanto trabalhava por duas décadas para o Departamento de Estado dos EUA.

As autoridades federais estão realizando uma avaliação de danos confidencial que poderá levar anos para ser concluída. O Departamento de Estado afirmou sportingbet champions sexta-feira que continuaria trabalhando com a comunidade de inteligência "para avaliar plenamente as implicações de política externa e de segurança nacional dessas acusações".

A prisão de Rocha, sportingbet champions sportingbet champions casa sportingbet champions Miami, sportingbet champions setembro passado, sportingbet champions acusações de haver atuado sportingbet champions "atividades clandestinas" a favor de Cuba desde pelo menos 1981, o ano sportingbet champions que se juntou ao serviço estrangeiro dos EUA, foi chocante.

O caso evidenciou a sofisticação dos serviços de inteligência de Cuba, que conseguiram outras penetrações prejudiciais sportingbet champions níveis altos do governo dos EUA. A dupla traição de Rocha passou despercebida por anos, afirmaram os promotores, enquanto o diplomata da Ivy League secretamente encontrou-se com operativos cubanos e forneceu informações falsas aos funcionários dos EUA sobre seus contatos.

Uma investigação da Associated Press revelou sinalizadores ignorados ao longo do caminho, incluindo um aviso que um ex-operacional da CIA recebeu cerca de duas décadas atrás de que Rocha estava atuando como um agente duplo. Informações separadas revelaram que a CIA estava ciente desde 1987 de que o líder cubano Fidel Castro tinha um "super-mole" enterrado profundamente no governo dos EUA, e algumas autoridades suspeitavam que poderia ser Rocha, relatou a AP.

A carreira prestigiosa de Rocha incluiu mandatos como embaixador na Bolívia e cargos de alto nível na Argentina, no México, na Casa Branca e na Seção de Interesses dos EUA sportingbet champions Havana.

Em 1973, no ano sportingbet champions que se formou na Yale, Rocha viajou para o Chile, onde os promotores dizem que ele se tornou um "grande amigo" da agência de inteligência de Cuba, a Diretoria Geral de Inteligência, ou DGI.

A carreira pós-governo de Rocha incluiu tempo como assessor especial do comandante do Comando Sul dos EUA e, mais recentemente, como um apoiante durão de Trump e halinerode Cuba, uma personalidade que os amigos e promotores disseram que Rocha adotou para esconder ``less suas verdadeiras lealdades.

Perguntas sem resposta

- Entre as perguntas sem resposta está o que levou a FBI a abrir sportingbet champions investigação sobre Rocha muitos anos após sportingbet champions aposentadoria do serviço externo.

Rocha se incriminou sportingbet champions uma série de conversas secretas com um agente do FBI, que se passava por um operativo de inteligência cubana. O agente inicialmente entrou sportingbet champions contato com Rocha pelo WhatsApp, se chamando "Miguel" e dizendo que ele tinha uma mensagem "de seus amigos sportingbet champions Havana".

Rocha elogiou Castro como "Comandante" nas conversas, rotulou os EUA como o "inimigo" e se vangloriou de seu serviço por mais de 40 anos como um mole cubano no centro dos círculos de política externa dos EUA, disseram os promotores sportingbet champions documentos judiciais. "O que nós fizemos... é enorme... mais do que um Grand Slam", disse Rocha ter dito.

Mesmo antes da sentença de sexta-feira, o acordo de prazo trouxe críticas na comunidade cubana de exílios de Miami, com alguns observadores jurídicos se incomodando de Rocha ser tratado de forma muito branda.

"Qualquer sentença que permita que ele volte a ver o luz do dia novamente não seria justiça", disse Carlos Trujillo, um advogado de Miami que atuou como Embaixador dos EUA na Organização dos Estados Americanos durante a administração Trump. "Ele é um espião para um país adversário que pôs vidas americanas sportingbet champions risco."

"Como cubano, não posso perdoá-lo," disse Isel Rodriguez, uma mulher cubano-americana de 55 anos que estava do lado de fora do tribunal federal na sexta-feira com um grupo de manifestantes acenando bandeiras americanas. "Eu me sinto completamente traído."

Mustian informou de Natchitoches, Louisiana.
